

FRY POWERFLOW SOLDER WIRE

- Tin / lead wire for non-potable applications
- Manufactured to BS EN 29453
- Produce perfect joints

Fry Powerflow solder wire for plumbing applications

Fry is the leading internationally recognised manufacturer of solder alloys and fluxes for plumbing and heating applications.

Its comprehensive range of highly effective solid solder wire is designed to produce perfect joints, quickly and cleanly.

Powerflow tin/lead wire for non-potable applications

With a melting range between 183°C and 234°C, this wire is available on 250 gm and 500 gm reels.